A Re-Imagined Teacher Education Program’s Alternative Field Experience

Rebecca Horeth, Program Coordinator
Kathy Hibbert, Associate Dean, Teacher Education

Western Education
Alternative Field Experience

What is the AFE?

Where is the AFE completed?

How is an AFE arranged?

a field placement or research or leadership project, in support of specialty courses, or, with approval, another aspect of teacher development

3 + 4 weeks; international, interdisciplinary teacher-candidate led, faculty arranged Program Perspectives

Credits

Required Outcomes

Partnerships & Transferable Skills

experiential credit courses towards BEd collaboration, support, accessible education preparing candidates outside the classroom and making connections between education and communities

Western Education
Learning Outcomes and Objectives

... as identified by second year Teacher Candidates classroom management, collaboration, lifelong learning, supporting students with exceptionalities and/or language needs, building relationships, resource development, learning about education outside the classroom approximately 70% of teacher candidates complete the AFE in a non-teaching setting Faculty-identified Outcomes vs. Student-identified Outcomes: Which is which?

Teacher candidates report on their experience by reflecting on their objectives

1. Gain mentorship in the field of education outside of a classroom setting
2. Explore other subject or age settings to determine if one will pursue additional qualifications
3. Articulate specific objectives, pedagogies, and transferrable skills in preparation for interviews
4. Explore experiences that will bring unique experiences to future classrooms upon graduation
5. Understand the roles of non-classroom staff in schools
6. Discover similarities and differences between educational settings
7. Try other professions to determine what one’s next career steps may be
8. Network with professionals in the field of education who can support throughout one’s career
9. Strengthen teaching skills and define philosophy to become the best educator
10. Enrich knowledge of the broad communities in which one will work
Reflections

What did Teacher Candidates identify as gained knowledge/skills?

How does this relate to the program’s goals for the AFE?

teacher candidates articulate and report on their own learning and gaps in learning coop-discovering the field of education professional relationships with colleagues, self-growth, leadership Next Steps

What actions are being taken?

How have final reports informed program changes?

Does field-integrated learning continue?

highlighting areas of education through human libraries and professional development promoting professional reflection and goal-setting through Annual Learning Plans practicum, transition to professional practice (T2P), AFE, community volunteering (CCC)

A Re-Imagined Teacher Education Program’s Alternative Field Experience

Rebecca Horeth, Program Coordinator
Kathy Hibbert, Associate Dean, Teacher Education

WesternEducation